Barter and Marion Firm Low Bidders on 2 Plans For Lake Construction

State Approval Still Needed for 'B' Proposal

Two local area construction companies were low bidders on the proposed Lake Harrisburg construction, it was revealed when sealed bids were opened Monday evening.

Bids were accepted on two plans, "A" and "B".

Chamness and Harris Construction Company of Marion, with a bid of $103,643.82, was low on plan "A" and the J. D. Barter Construction Company of Harrisburg was low on plan "B" with $92,574.90.

Originally it was planned that bids would be accepted at today's meeting of the Harrisburg city council, but when it was learned that plan "B" had not been approved by state agencies, it was decided to meet in an adjourned meeting Thursday, at which time it is hoped to accept a bid and sign a contract for the construction of Lake Harrisburg.

The sealed bids from six com-struction firms were publicly opened in a meeting held in the council room of the Harrisburg city hall Monday evening by Mayor Ralph Horning, Jr.

A large group was present, including members of the city council, city water board, representatives from the various construction firms, materials suppliers, bonds writers and others.

Bids were made on two plans, known as "A" and "B". Generally speaking the difference in the two plans is in the shape of the levee and construction of the spillway.

In plan "A" the levee runs in a west east direction between the hills and in plan "B" the levee will angle northward after crossing the creek. In plan "B" approximately 100 yards less concrete would be used and the total cost of plan "B" is about $11,000 less than plan "A".

Seek State Approval of Plan

Plan "B" has not been approved by state agencies, but R. D. Brown and Robert R. Brown, engineers for the proposed Lake Harrisburg project, are in Springfield today seeking to get approval so that work can start soon.

In addition to the two lower bids, submitted by J. D. Barter Construction Company of Harrisburg—Plan "A" $104,011.80 and Plan "B" $92,574.90, and Chamness and Harris Construction Company of Marion—Plan "A" $103,643.82 and Plan "B" $94,950.60—four other firms also made bids.

The Kierhoff Brothers Construction Co. of Freeholdville, Ind., bid $135,010.20 on Plan "A" and $121,490.00 on Plan "B" and said they would complete the work in 183 calendar days.

Other Bids

Riley and Stiers Construction Company, St. Louis bid as follows—Plan "A" $138,877.14 and Plan "B" $132,411.00. The work would be completed in 270 days.

The bid from the Three-A Builders, Evansville, Indiana was Plan "A" $154,237.34 and Plan "B" $152,496.69, work to be completed in 100 calendar days.

The Central States Construction and Equipment Co., Belleville, bid $170,462.34 on Plan "A" and $167,967.04 on Plan "B", with the work to be completed in 180 days.

The J. D. Barter bid called for the work to be done in 100 working days and Chamness and Harris said they would complete the job in 120 days.

The engineers' estimate on the two plans was "A" $108,566.40 and "B" $99,531.75.

Harrisburg Area Still Tops

(An Editorial)

The Harrisburg area is still the best in southern Illinois. We are reminded of that fact by reviewing our blessings as delineated in the "Welcome to Harrisburg" booklet just published by the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, and by a general review of the situation in Harrisburg and the surrounding trading area.

It is good occasionally to count our blessings, and to counter the mumbblings of the prophets of gloom, who always relate that things are "going to the dogs," and are disappointed to find themselves in error.

There are a lot of good things about our area. Take, for instance, the coal situation. Some point out that mines are closing, that the coal industry is on its way out, but the record shows otherwise.

We have just received the Illinois Coal report for 1953. It shows there were 2,857,638 tons of coal mined in the county in 1953. There were 270,465 man days worked. Roughly that would be a payroll of more than four million dollars.

Granted that mines have closed this year and others are not working as much as in times past, there is still a tremendous coal mining payroll in Saline county.

The same Illinois Coal report lists the oil operations in the county. There were 34 producing oil wells brought in for the county in 1953, and it is common knowledge that new wells are being brought in almost every week.

Farmers in Saline and adjoining counties have been hit by drought this year, but not as seriously as in other counties, and there will be a startling total of farm income for the year 1954.

New highways are being built and old ones are being repaired in the Harrisburg trading area. The new bridge at Shawneetown will bring more traffic through this area.

Flour spar mines in the Hardin county area will benefit by the new U. S. stockpiling orders.

There is new small industry in Harrisburg. Schools in the area are being improved. Harrisburg this year has seen or will see three new church buildings or additions.

Before the winter is over, Harrisburg will have a water supply that will last from three to four years, even in times of severe drought.

Even with new housing projects at Harrisburg, Eldorado, Galatia, Carrier Mills, and with private building, there is still no surplus of good residences. They are occupied as fast as they are available.

This area is not "going to the dogs." It is a good place in which to live and to bring up a family. Objective, optimistic thinking will make it a better place.

Council Gives Formal Approval of Contract to Purchase CIPS Property

The council of the city of Harrisburg today gave formal approval to a contract with the Central Illinois Public Service Co. for the purchase of property around the reservoir for $2,000 and gave final passage to a 50-year franchise for the CIPS.

The $2,000 covered about 86 acres of land on which are the CIPS reservoir, the pumping station and pumps, worth many thousands of dollars. The franchise, it was pointed out, is a right to operate and not a monopoly. Also, it was stated, the Illinois Commerce commission and not the CIPS fixes rates that will be charged.

Both the contract and the franchise were approved unanimously by the full council that was present. The franchise had been laid over two weeks ago for passage today.

Equipment Included

"I think it is one of the finest deals the city ever got," commented Mayor Ralph Horning.

The acreage includes the 44.11-acre reservoir and 42 1/2 acres on the north side of Middle Fork upon which is the spray pond. Equipment includes three pumps, of 14, 500, 3,000 and 750 gallons per minute capacity, three 25-KVA transformers, switches, pipeline, wiring and a bridge across the creek.

A delegation of seven persons living on Land street near Sloan appeared before the council to protest the chicken-raising project of Harold Riegel, nearby. They charged it produced obnoxious odors and that there were more flies since the big building was put in operation last year. The group asked for action to eliminate what it called a health hazard.

Delegation Seeks Ordinance

Riegel, who was present, too, said he had done everything possible to keep his building clean. He contended that flies don't stay around chickens very much, except around feed, and added that there is occasionally an odor from seven to nine weeks old chickens.

It was pointed out by the council there is no ordinance against raising chickens inside the city limits and the delegation asked for such an ordinance.

Dr. James H. Wells, health officer of the Egyptian Health department, was called to the meeting and he said there is a law on public health nuisances which could cover the situation but that it must be handled by the city government.

He also revealed his department had investigated a complaint of this situation on Aug. 7 and that his sanitarian, Monroe L. Rhodes, had made a report which said that when he was there, there were 5,200 chickens on the two floors, that sanitation was as good as could be expected for the type of operation.

Other Action

A civil case was suggested by the council but the delegation insisted on an ordinance. No action

Urges Church Independence of Social Systems

Hungarian Bishop Addresses World Council Assembly

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Bishop John Peter, a leading churchman of Communist Hungary, said today that the world's Christian churches should declare their independence "of all social systems more courageously and more resolutely than heretofore."

Bishop Peter, of the Hungarian Reformed Church, spoke at a meeting of accredited visitors to the second assembly of the World Council of Churches, which is being held at Northwestern University in this Chicago suburb.

United States officials had feared that 11 clergymen from Iron Curtain nations, permitted to come here under special visas from the State Department, might use the assembly as a soundingboard for Communist propaganda.

Dr. J. B. Matthews, former executive director for Sen. Joseph McCarthy's investigating committee, charged flatly in a speech last week that Peter was coming here as a Soviet agent.

However, Peter's speech today, the first made by any of the delegates from Communist nations, appealed to the Christian church to sever itself from identification with any of the world's political or social ideologies.

Christianity Spread Urged

"Amidst the problems of secularization and social change the church has the constant temptation simply to drift along with events," Peter said.

"In order to find help in resisting this temptation we must take strong hold upon our basic Christian beliefs, proclaiming that the existence of the church is not bound up with any social system but serves independently of the changes in the social system," he said.

Peter described the church in Hungary as growing in strength and freedom.

At Monday night's plenary council session, two prominent churchmen warned that the need to spread Christianity throughout the world is more urgent than development of defenses against the hydrogen bomb.

Speakers were the Rev. Theodore O. Wedel, canon of Washington, D. C., Cathedral, and the Rev. Daniel T. Niles, area evangelist of the Methodist Church of Ceylon.

Canon Wedel warned that "the coming of the Kingdom awaits the preaching of the gospel to every creature."

"There can be no urgency, even that of hydrogen bombs, equal to this," he said. "The prospect of the end of the world did not frighten the Christians of Apostolic days. It need not frighten us."

Award Contracts For Repair of State Highways

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—Award of contracts for intermittent bituminous resurfacing and cement patching on various roads in Saline, Gallatin, Hamilton, Johnson, Pope and Williamson counties was announced today by the State Highway division.

Frank C. Feutz, Inc., Paris, was the successful contractor on a bid of $167,425. The projects call for 7.21 miles on Illinois 166 from Ill. 13 west of Marion to New Bern side and on U. S. 45 from Carrier Mills southwesterly; 18.39 miles on Illinois 13 from two miles west of the Williamson-Saline county line easterly to Illinois 1; 8.41 miles on Illinois 34 from Harrisburg southeasterly and 3.81 miles from Harrisburg northerly; and two locations on Illinois 145 south of Dixon Springs and on the Raleigh-Eldorado road.

John Erwood

Return Verdict Of Accident in Erwood Death

An all-woman jury last night returned a verdict of accident at the inquest into the death of John Erwood, Eldorado bakery operator.

The verdict was that Erwood came to his death by a fence while attempting to climb a fence while a shotgun, which accidentally discharged.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons conducted the inquest at the Eldorado city hall with three witnesses testifying. The witnesses, Alfred Bramlet, Charles A. Patterson and Eugene Choissier, said that in their opinion his death came when his shotgun discharged as he was trying to climb a fence. A freshly broken fence post was a strong point in the evidence.

Erwood's body was found about 8:15 a. m. Sunday by Bramlet and Patterson, who were hunting for him, about 300 feet from the Erwood cabin on Willa Lake south of Eldorado.

Bramlet, Erwood's brother-in-law, said Erwood stayed at the cabin every night. He said he was in town Sunday morning, receiving a call from Erwood's wife, Mildred, which stated she was alarmed because he had not come home.

He went to the lake and he and Patterson found the body at the fence.

Patterson said he and Erwood had listened to a radio account of a ball game at the Patterson cabin Saturday night and that about 11 p. m. he drove Erwood to his own cabin across the lake. Next morning, he said, he went to Erwood's cabin and there he saw the Erwood truck. Inside, he said, he saw Erwood's keys and other personal possessions and figured something was wrong.

He hurried into town to try to find him, and then went back to the lake and started hunting, he testified. At that time Bramlet showed up and they both looked. A dog of Erwood's, he said, came from the direction of the woods and took them to the body.

Choissier, the undertaker who took care of the body, described the wound to his head.

Seek Clothing and Furniture for Herod Family, Fire Victims

The James Hale family of near Herod lost all its possessions Saturday when the home was destroyed by fire, and a plea was made today by friends for clothing and furniture.

The family lost everything—house, furniture, and clothing including shoes for the man, his wife, three girls aged 6, 7 and 8 and a boy, 3. The man is an unemployed miner.

Charged With Obtaining Money By False Pretenses

W. E. McCoy, who county officers said had been using the name of W. E. Oxford, was arrested Saturday evening and yesterday was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

He was charged with obtaining a television set from Mac's Good year store using the name of "W. E. Oxford, a minister."

Officers said that McCoy had obtained three television sets, an electric refrigerator, gas stove, tractor and plow and three automobiles on various pretenses and all had been recovered by the sellers.

He has been living on a farm in the south part of Independence township. He was sent up from this county in 1949 on a charge of operating a confidence game and now Hamilton county has a warrant out for him charging him with issuing a fraudulent check, it was stated by the officers.

He was arrested by Sheriff Paul Spangler and Deputy Sheriff Lowden Perkins and State Policeman Roy A. Lane near Harrisburg after a service station attendant south of town reported he secured gasoline without paying for it.

The attendant said that the man while the gasoline tank was being filled, said to stop putting in the gasoline, that he had left his wallet at home and would have to go get it.

When he passed by some time later and did not stop the officers were called and they halted him coming in to Harrisburg.

Fire Destroys 2 Buildings at West Frankfort

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—A fire in the heart of the business district here today destroyed a one-story brick building housing five business establishments, and another building in which an insurance office and a barber shop were located.

The blaze caused damage which may total more than $475,000. The fire's origin was not determined.

Police Chief Roy Brown turned in an alarm when he saw smoke coming from the Lane Building at 4:45 a. m. Firemen were unable to bring the flames under control until nearly four hours later.

The building housed the Dean Drug Store, Jacobs-Lane jewelry, Davis Brokerage and Bourd's Shoe Store. Damage at the drug store was estimated at $40,000 while the brokerage store estimated its loss at $30,000.

A real estate appraiser estimated the loss of the building would be $150,000 to $200,000.

Firemen from McLeansboro, Marion, Christopher, Benton, Mount Vernon, Herrin, Salem and West Frankfort were unable to keep the flames from spreading to the Jacobs Insurance Building which is at the rear of the Lane Building. The insurance building also housed a barber shop, and a gas and electric utility office was located in the Lane building.

The fire was the third major blaze in downtown West Frankfort this year. In January a cafe burned down and in March fire destroyed a supermarket and a roller skating rink.

The emergency Polio fund campaign in Saline county will be headed by the Lions clubs in Harrisburg, Carrier Mills and Eldorado, with R. C. "Stopper" Adams, president of the Harrisburg club, county chairman, it has been announced.

Adams, at Monday night's meeting of the Harrisburg Lions club, revealed that containers for the receiving of funds have been delivered to all towns in the county and that approximately 70 containers have been placed in local business houses.

Plans for an auction to be held in the Harrisburg business district and other money-raising activities for the Polio drive were also discussed.

It was revealed also that the Lions members plans a house-to-house light bulb selling campaign in September, the funds to be used by the Lions in their service projects. The light bulbs will be obtained at wholesale and sold at regular retail prices.

Lt. J. C. Hilliard, stationed at Roswell AFB, N. M., was a guest of his father, Paul Hilliard, and Monty Hunter, home on leave following a tour of duty with the Air Force in the Far East, was a guest of his father, J. R. "Eddie Wise" Hunter.

Defense attorneys were appointed for the four men, all Vienna Negroes, and State's Atty. Donald Mitchell said they probably will be arraigned within a week. If they plead innocent they probably will be tried in circuit court in November, Mitchell said.

Overrides GOP Leadership By 81-1 Vote

Both Houses Speed Action For Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, overriding its Republican leadership, today approved a bill to outlaw the Communist Party by making membership in the party a crime and stripping it of all its rights and privileges.

The vote was 81-1.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Sen. Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.). The measure now goes back to the House, which is faced with a choice of agreeing to the Senate amendments or sending the measure to conference to iron out differences.

Senate approval of the measure quickly followed a Democratic victory in putting back into the bill the provision to make membership in the Communist Party a crime. The vote was 41-39.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) expects the 83rd Congress to clean up its legislative slate and head for home before Sunday barring "some unexpected obstruction."

In Session Tonight

Knowland said adjournment might be either Friday or Saturday.

He said he will hold the Senate in session until 10 p. m. tonight to speed action on remaining bills.

Legislation on the Senate's schedule today included House-Senate conference committee reports on the farm bill and supplemental appropriation bill, and measures dealing with sabotage in defense plants, public works, on rivers and harbors, liberalization of unemployment compensation, renegotiation of defense contracts, and Commodity Credit Corp. borrowing powers.

Both houses appeared to have caught the adjournment fever in earnest by wading through a formidable list of "must" bills Monday. They were expected to polish off others today.

In a sudden burst of speed, the usually slow-moving Senate sent week-end adjournment hopes soaring Monday night by approving a compromise version of the administration's atomic energy bill with only 17 minutes debate.

House approval of the bill, which sparked a 13-day Senate filibuster last month and threatened to gum up adjournment plans, is expected today.

The Senate tackled another stumbling block today by scheduling a showdown vote on a House-approved anti-Communist bill. The measure was threatened with temporary delay, however, by the in-

About Town And Country

Baseball Season is Over for Timotheus As Vacation Ends

BACK: Timmo and Mrs. T have returned from a vacation and I might say right now that the baseball season is over for ol' Timotheus.

We went to Arkansas and up to St. Louis and return. It's funny, these trips. You get yourself all tense and drive, keeping the eye on the road ahead, the intersections and on the rear view mirror to such an extent that you don't see anything. I wonder why we don't slow down to a leisurely pace, relax and enjoy yourself. The reason is, I guess, is that you couldn't enjoy yourself at a moderate pace because you'd get knocked off the road by the car behind you. The motorist might be a nice man, however, and not knock you off the road; but would only look around with a dirty glance as he passed because you were holding up the traffic. Now isn't that last sentence a screwed-up one? But I do not have time to change it. And I should have split up this paragraph 'way back, too, but I don't have time for that either. Typing and driving must be related somehow.

The big league baseball season ended officially about 9:30 p. m. the night of Wednesday, Aug. 11, in Busch stadium. Honestly, I had a faint hope of seeing a Cardinal victory when I plunked down the $1.85 for a seat. But you can get funny ideas some times, because the Milwaukee Braves made three runs the first inning, two the second, and kept building up the margin until it was 11 to 0 in about the sixth. I stayed through the seventh with the score still 11 to 0 and then the season ended. I left with still two innings to go in spite of the $1.85. It was just like throwing money to the winds.

Come on, football!

Looking around after getting back I noticed that there's still about two more weeks of work left on the Ellis Truck. Lines building on Route 45 and that the crop has been cleared from the county farm site of the new plastic factory. Also noticed the water is tasting all right.

I don't find any good stories on my desk to pass on to you; so it looks like it's going to be a short effort today.

Foreign Aid

Editorial By BRUCE BLOSSAT
It is that time of year when we must observe that the progress of foreign-aid legislation through Congress has followed its usual wear-some course, only to wind up with in respectable distance of President Eisenhower's original goal.

Ever since early 1948, foreign-aid bills, first strictly economic and later a mixture of economic and military, have been chopped at vigorously with congressional axes. Almost without exception, the whacking eventually cut so deep it raised the alarming prospect that the objectives of foreign assistance could not be attained.

At that point, either the White House or other key public sources spoke up in protest, and enough of the cut was restored to bring the measure to decent proportions.

Well, so it has been in 1954. Mr.
Eisenhower sought $3,440,000,000 for these purposes. The House cut this to $3,338,000,000. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee peeled off another slice and got it down to $3,100,000,000.

The final blow was the hardest of all. The Senate, in floor debate, slashed foreign aid below $2,700,- 000,000, about three-quarters of a billion beneath the President's request.

Mr. Eisenhower felt this was just too much, and spoke out against the wholesale chopping, as he has in former years. Thereupon the House-Senate conference committee reconciling differences on the measure put back $319,000,- 000 and lifted the total to $3,054,- 568,000.

No one wants to argue that Congress should not take a hard look at foreign aid or any other money-authorization program. It has a duty to do just that. But it also has a duty to cut funds responsibly, rather than to slash wildly, safe in the knowledge that foreigners don't vote in American elections.

There has been virtually no year when Congress did not at some stage cut foreign aid below levels deemed wise, only to put back part of the cut when the protests grew strong. Yet, through all this postwar span, the lawmakers have managed to keep their economy urges under firm control whenever large domestic authorizations were at stake.

Some day it may occur to more than a few of these fellows that the voters detect the hollow sound of their economy clamor. If economy does not begin at home, at least it ought to reach that far.
But that seems about the last place a Washington lawmaker wants to have it.

The average person would worry himself sick if he didn't think he was way above average.

DREW PEARSON Says:
Lone Lady Makes Eloquent
Plea For Hawaiian Statehood; Widow Of Hawaiian Delegate
Asks Ike For Help; Mrs. Farrington Beards GOP Lead-

WASHINGTON. — It was a cool
June Saturday in Washington. Joe Farrington, longtime Hawaiian delegate to the Congress of the United States, came into his office and announced to his staff: "It's too nice a day to answer mail. Go out and enjoy yourselves. I'll be busy talking to congressmen, and I won't need you."

Then patiently he went the rounds of seven members of the House Rules committee. He was trying to persuade them to help fulfill his life's greatest ambition—making Hawaii the 49th state of the Union.

The seven members of the Rules committee held the key to Hawaiian statehood. For the statehood bill was bottled up in that committee, waiting a joint conference with the Senate. It had been bottled up for months, all because the Republican leadership didn't want the bill out.

So Joe Farrington plodded from office to office trying to persuade key members of the Rules committee to permit Hawaiian statehood to come up for action. And having spent all Saturday morning trying to persuade them, Joe Farrington came back to his office after lunch, sat down at his desk, tired and discouraged, and quietly passed away.

Earlier that winter, Mrs. Farrington, knowing Joe had a weak heart and a burning ambition, had told friends: "If Joe doesn't get statehood this session, I'm afraid it will kill him."

Two months passed. In the interim, Mrs. Farrington was overwhelmingly elected by Hawaiians to fill her husband's shoes and came back to Washington for the closing days of Congress.

She knew that the statehood bill was deadlocked, perhaps hopelessly, first because the Republicans had broken their pledge of admitting both Alaska and Hawaii as states simultaneously; second because the Democrats refused to act on Hawaiian statehood unless Alaska got equal treatment; also she knew that Eisenhower was flatly opposed to Alaska.

But finally she knew that nothing could better serve as a memorial to her dead husband than action on Hawaii now. So she went to see President Eisenhower.

He was most cordial. But among other things he said:
"I am just opposed to having a little group of people down in the southern end of Alaska controlling the rest of a vast area that is so important to our defense."

"I know that you as a military commander are accustomed to figuring long-range objectives," countered Mrs. Farrington. "And you plan your tactics step-by-step to reach that objective."

"But," she interrupted herself,
"imagine my telling you, the President, what to do."

"You go right ahead," prompted the President.
"Well, did you ever figure," said Mrs. Farrington, "that a state can set aside military reservations, and some of the northern parts of Alaska might be set aside as military reservations for defense purposes? We had some experience with military government in Hawaii during the war, and it's sometimes easier for a state to enact laws to defend itself than a territory."

A LADY'S PERSISTENCE

Mrs. Farrington went on to plead for both Alaskan and Hawaiian statehood, knowing that they must be tied together to get them through Congress.

"All I want you to do," she concluded, "is to tell Speaker Joe Martin and Charlie Halleck that they are to let the statehood bill out of the Rules committee so we can vote on it."

Finally Eisenhower asked to outline the facts she had given him to his liaison man with Congress, Gen. Jerry Persons. This she did.
And since Persons didn't take any notes, and since she was afraid he would forget some of the legal points she made regarding ways and means of setting up military reservations for Pacific defense, Mrs. Farrington got a lawyer to draw up a careful memorandum over the week end and delivered it to the White House late Sunday evening.

She wanted the President to be prepared when he sat down with Speaker Martin and Halleck for their strategy conference Monday morning.

THE WASHINGTON
DOUBLE-CROSS
Mrs. Farrington had been with her husband in Washington a long time. She knew how easy it is to pass the buck. She knew how the White House blames congressional leaders, and how Republican leaders blame the Democrats—and vice versa.

She also knew that Speaker Martin blamed ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn for bottling up Hawaiian statehood, so she went to see both of them.

Martin at first was adamant.
He said it was too late in the evening, that the Rules committee wasn't going to meet anymore.

"The committee can't meet just to vote on one bill," he said when Mrs. Farrington asked that it be called on to act on Hawaiian statehood. "Every other congressman with a bill in the Rules committee would be clamoring to have his taken up too."

Ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn was a different story.

The word "sardine" comes from the fact that this fish first was caught off the island of Sardinia, near Italy.

Registration for the coming school term is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 30, at Galatia high school, Principal Raymond Gardner has announced. Classes will commence on Tuesday, Aug. 31.

regular time with a few minor changes in route, Mr. Gardner related, and lunch will be served on Monday at the school cafeteria.

The school will again offer students textbooks on a rental basis, it was announced, the fee being $4.

In reviewing new courses added to the school's curriculum, Principal Gardner stated that a health course which includes first aid training and theory of driver's education would be offered freshmen, a modern problems course would be given upperclassmen and possibly a speech course, too, might be offered. The industrial arts course has been revised to include drawing, wood working, metal shop and electricity.

Three new teachers have been employed for the coming year.

dred Kasten and Sammy Miranda.

Mrs. Lee will teach music, English and girls' physical education.
A graduate of SIU in 1950, Mrs.
Lee has taught in the Cave-in-Rock school system for the past three years. At SIU she majored in piano and was a member of the

He majored in physical education with a minor in speech. He was an outstanding athlete in basket-later at Indiana. He and his wife plan to move to Galatia within the next few days.

Other members of the school faculty will include Lester Gill, science; James Bond, vocational agriculture; Miss Violet Moore, home economics; Earl Rapp, industrial arts and English; Mrs.
Dene Pulliam, commercial subjects; and Mr. Gardner, senior civics and principal. Mrs. Ewing Plannigan will again serve as school secretary.

Several improvements have been made to the school grounds during the summer months. The circular drive in front of the building has been graded and oiled to eliminate the dust problem, and a new six-foot sidewalk is in the process of construction, leading from the main street to the entrance of the school building. A parking lot has also been constructed just north of the school for the convenience of patrons attending school activities.

Inside, the entire building has been cleaned and made ready for school. The cafeteria has undergone some remodeling to provide more efficient service for those participating in the school lunch program, and the auditorium stage has been equipped with a double Cyclorama setting. This project was the result of work by the senior class of 1954.

Miss Cecelia Lee Wagner, Fred Jobe Jr.
Wed in Garden Setting Sunday, Aug. 1

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jobe Jr. (Foster Studio Photo)

In a lovely garden setting Miss Cecelia Lee Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wagner, Raleigh RFD 1, became the bride of Fred Jobe Jr., son of Mrs. Fred Jobe of Evansville, Ind., Sunday, Aug. 1, at 5:30 p. m.

The shady front lawn of the Wagner country home was decorated with a white arch entwined with huckleberry and flanked with leafed caladiums in brass pots against a background of evergreens.

The double ring ceremony was performed by a close friend of the family, E. E. Ledford Sr., justice of the peace.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of embroidered nylon, designed with a four flounce skirt and a strapless bodice over which she wore a matching jacket with long tight fitting sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a white orchid surrounded with turquoise carnations which formed a modified cascade bouquet. For jewelry she wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings.

Miss Norma Jean Alexander, Evansville, Ind., was maid of honor, wearing a pale pink ankle length gown with a bouffant skirt and a low round neckline. She, too, carried a bouquet of turquoise carnations.

The junior bridesmaid was Sharon Lee Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Hamilton, who was dressed in pale blue organza under which she wore a stiff white petticoat. In her hair she wore a cluster of pink carnations and carried a matching colonial bouquet.

Donald Young, Evansville, Ind., served as best man, and John Edelson as usher.

Miss Della Dale sang "Lord Bless This House" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Thompson.

Mrs. Wagner chose for her daughter's wedding a powder blue dress of lace with navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Jobe was dressed in a navy sheer with white accessories and a white corsage of carnations.

A reception immediately followed the wedding at the Wagner home where the reception table was decorated with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Hostesses were Mrs. J. D. Stanley, Mrs. Quinn Stuby, Mrs. Don Young, Evansville, Ind., and Miss Mary Lou Harding.

The bride, who graduated from the Centralia high school and attended SIU, is recreational director at the Evansville state hospital, and the bridegroom is head of the hydrotherapy department there. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Miss Small and Miss Steidinger taught at Park Forest for the past two years, and Miss Pavlic, with whom they became acquainted when they were attending the University of Illinois, taught at Calumet City.

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Morman and children, Rebecca and Susan, will leave in the morning following the Baptist hour for Ridgecrest, N. C., to attend the Bible conference. They shall spend Wednesday night in Knoxville, Tenn., at the home of Dr. Charles Trentham, former professor who taught Rev. Morman at the Southwestern Baptist Seminary and who is now pastor of the First Baptist church in Knoxville. The Mormans will return Wednesday, Aug. 25.

They visited relatives in Michigan, toured through the Pontiac Motors plant and viewed the Henry Ford Museum. From the United States they journeyed into Canada, visiting several different places, among them Windsor, where a centennial was being held. Storms Hit
Many Areas;
Boy is Killed

By United Press

At least one death was blamed on storms, showers and thunderstorms which struck much of the country.

A 12-year-old boy died at Pittsburgh, Pa., when lightning struck a tree Monday and the shack in which he took refuge during a heavy thundershower. The one-inch downpour broke a 90-degree heat wave in the area, but caused heavy property damage.

The weather disturbances covered an area from the northeastern states southward to Alabama and Georgia and westward across the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions to the central and southern Rockies.

Rain during a 24-hour period exceeded one inch in southwestern Nebraska, northern Illinois, Western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and northeastern Montana.

The heaviest downpour hit Sidney, Neb., where 1.88 inches fell on drought-parched soil.

The rains brought cooler weather to much of the Midwest and northern Great Plains area, where temperatures fell nine to 19 degrees below Sunday's highs.

But other areas suffered in heat over 100 degrees, including Atlanta, Ga., with a record-breaking August high of 102.

The hottest spot in the country Monday was El Centro, Calif., with 110 degrees—in sharp contrast with early morning readings today of 28 degrees at Big Piney, Wyo., and Fraser, Colo.

Coffee Prices
Show First Dip

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The American housewife will pay from 2 to 10 cents less for a pound of coffee within the next 30 days, industry sources indicated today.

The first slash in coffee prices in eight months began on the wholesale level Monday as a result of new currency regulations in Brazil.

Brazil supplies half of the 2,600,000 pounds of coffee consumed in the United States each year.

Brazilian officials predicted the drop in coffee prices when it announced its new currency exchange restrictions last Saturday.

In futures trading Monday on the New York coffee and sugar exchange, coffee prices broke 2 cents a pound for Santos (Brazilian) coffee.

Martinson's Coffee Co., which produces one of the most expensive coffees, selling for about $1.50 a pound, immediately announced it was cutting its price 10 cents a pound.

The Nash Coffee Co. in St. Paul, Minn., said its wholesale coffee prices would be cut 5 cents and would be reflected in retail price reductions.

Sen. Knowland Hits Charge By Mitchell

Demo Chairman Claims Favoritism Played by President

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower said today he is willing to back up fully public the record on the award to a private syndicate of a contract to supply power to an atomic installation.

The President summarily rejected criticism of the contract by Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland today denounced Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for suggesting that favoritism to a friend influenced President Eisenhower's decision on a big government power contract.

In a sharply worded Senate speech, Knowland challenged Mitchell to back up his charge that the award of an Atomic Energy Commission power contract to the Dixon-Yates utility syndicate was "a scandal" that should be investigated.

Mitchell made that charge in a speech before the American Bar Assn. convention in Chicago Monday. He noted that one of Mr. Eisenhower's "closest friends" — later identified as famed golfer Bobby Jones — has an interest in the utility syndicate.

Knowland told the Senate that Mitchell's statement "appears to cast reflections and tend to break down the confidence of the country" in Mr. Eisenhower and the office of the presidency itself.

Knowland says that if Mitchell "has any information that indicates the contract was in any way illegal" or that "undue influence" was exerted or that "any personal relationship" with one of the President's friends played a part, Mitchell "owes it to the country and to his own party" to present such information to the congressional Atomic Energy Committee and to the Justice Department.

Cooper Doesn't Believe Mitchell

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) recalled that he opposed the Dixon-Yates contract during the 13-day Senate filibuster on the atomic energy bill, in which the contract was a major issue. But he said there was "never a question in my mind that the President acted as he saw fit and as he thought for the best interests of the country."

Under the Dixon-Yates contract, the Atomic Energy Commission was directed to buy 600,000 kilowatts annually from the Dixon-Yates combine which is to construct a power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply the power and funnel it into the Tennessee Valley Authority system at Memphis.

Mitchell said that the TVA had offered to supply the power for 140 million dollars less than the private combine would charge the government.

Mitchell conceded that maybe it was only a "coincidence" and maybe Jones never talked to the President about the deal.

"But I do know this," he added. "If a Democratic president had ever done anything like this, we never would have heard the last of cronyism and corruption."

Reveal Huge Hailstones Which Pelted Nation's Capital in 1953 Radioactive

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Some of the hail stones pelted the nation's capital were the size of tennis balls. Children sucked the stones. Only later was it discovered that the stones were radioactive.

It was "rather fortunate," reported three scientists of the Navy's hydrographic office, that the radioactivity was of "low value," and so the stone-sucking kids showed no "apparent ill effects."

Gilbert Jaffe, Walter Wittmann, and Charles C. Bates were disclosing a hitherto unknown facet of the freak storm which hit the District of Columbia on May 26, 1953.

Atomic Shells Responsible Twenty-nine hours before, atomic cannon shells had been tested on the Atomic Energy Commission's proving grounds at Frenchman's Flat, Nevada, a distance from the capital of 1,930 nautical miles.

The scientists figured from weather charts that the radioactive particles flung into the sky at Frenchman's Flat should have gotten no farther east than Fort Wayne, Ind., in those 29 hours because the mean wind speed at about 18,800 feet altitude was only 55 knots.

But there was a jet stream that day and they decided it boosted the speed of the particles and got them over the District of Columbia just in time to get into a passing cold front and become the seasoning for forming hail stones.

Jet Streams Valuable Their report was made to the American Meteorological Society, which had heard a new method of locating jet streams. They are fast-moving wind currents at altitudes of 20,000 to 30,000 feet which can double the speed of a plane if it's lucky enough to get into it.

When we know enough about the jet streams to tell from the ground just where they are, pilots of bombers and airliners will be able to find them, get into them, and so increase their speeds by as much as 300 miles an hour.

Jet streams almost always move from more-or-less west to more-or-less east. Pilots going in the opposite direction will be glad to know where they are in order to avoid them.

Introduction of six Senate amendments designed to "improve" the bill.

Farm Bill Progressing The House — and possibly the Senate — was expected to give final approval today to a farm bill pretty much in line with President Eisenhower's wishes. A House-Senate Conference Committee set this one up Monday by approving a bill without a Senate and administration opposition. House provisions to boost dairy price supports.

Barring major last-minute snags congressional leaders appeared more confident they could hit the often postponed adjournment target by the end of the week. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he saw no reason why the Senate could not complete the announced program by then.

Adjournment Fears Eased Republican leaders expressed some doubt Monday that the week-end adjournment goal could be met. But that was before the sudden Senate spurt that came near the end of a 12-hour session.

When Congress does wind up its legislative business, the House plans to quit for good. The Senate, however, will recess until a special committee studying censure charges against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is ready to file its report, probably in the early fall.

In addition to approving the atomic energy bill, the Senate also passed a measure Monday that would provide the death penalty for peace-time espionage. The House passed and sent to the Senate its version of the anti-Communist bill and also completed congressional action on a bill authorizing a temporary six billion dollar increase in the national debt.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 2, 1954.

LEGISLATIVE APPOINTMENT AMENDMENT

Article IV

Section 6. The General Assembly in 1955 shall redistrict the state for the purpose of electing state senators. There shall be fifty-eight senatorial districts. Cook county shall have twenty-four of the districts. These twenty-four districts shall be located as follows: Eighteen in the territory that is within the present corporate limits of the city of Chicago; and six in the territory that is in Cook county outside such corporate limits. The remaining one hundred and one counties of the state shall have thirty-four of the senatorial districts.

All senatorial districts shall be formed of contiguous and compact territory. In their formation, area shall be the prime consideration.

The senatorial districts shall be numbered one, two, three, and so forth, including fifty-eight. Each senatorial district shall elect one senator, whose term of office shall be four years. Senators elected in districts bearing even numbers shall be elected in 1956 and every four years thereafter; and senators elected in districts bearing odd numbers shall be elected in 1958 and every four years thereafter.

Section 7. The General Assembly in 1955 and in 1963, and every ten years thereafter, shall redistrict the state for the purpose of electing state representatives. There shall be fifty-nine representative districts. In the 1955 redistricting Cook county shall have thirty of the districts. These thirty districts shall be located as follows: Twenty-three in the territory that is within the present corporate limits of the City of Chicago; and seven in the territory that is in Cook County outside such corporate limits. In the 1955 redistricting, the remaining one hundred and one counties of the state shall have twenty-nine of the representative districts. In redistricting subsequent to the 1960 census, and thereafter, the fifty-nine representative districts shall be divided among (1) that part of Cook County that is within the present corporate limits of the City of Chicago, (2) that part of Cook County that is outside such corporate limits, and (3) the remaining one hundred and one counties of the state, as nearly as may be, as the population of each of these three divisions bears to the total population of the state.

Representative districts shall be formed of contiguous and compact territory, and shall contain, as nearly as practicable, a population equal to the representative ratio; outside of Cook County, such districts shall be bounded by county lines unless the population of any county entitles it to more than one representative district. The representative ratio for the entire state shall be the quotient obtained by dividing the population of the state by fifty-nine. No representative district may contain less population than four-fifths of the representative ratio.

Three representatives shall be elected in each representative district in 1956 and every two years thereafter. The term of office shall be two years. In all elections of representatives aforesaid, each qualified voter may cast as many votes for one candidate as there are representatives to be elected, or may distribute the same, or equal parts thereof, among the candidates, as he shall see fit; and the candidates highest in votes shall be declared elected.

Section 8. In performing its duties under Sections 6 and 7 of this amendment, the General Assembly shall redistrict and reapportion in a single legislative enactment. If, however, the regular session of the General Assembly in 1955 as to both senatorial and representative districts or in 1963, or any ten years thereafter as to representative districts, fails by the first day of July to redistrict the state into such districts, then the redistricting shall be accomplished by a commission. Within thirty days after such first day of July, the state central committee of each of the two political parties, casting the highest votes for governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election, shall submit to the governor of the state a list of ten persons. Within thirty days thereafter, the governor shall appoint the commission of ten members, five from each list. If either of the state central committees fails to submit the list within the specified time, the governor, within the specified time, shall appoint five members of his own choice from the party of such committee. Each member of the committee shall receive $25.00 a day, but not more than $2,000 for his service.

This commission shall redistrict the state into senatorial districts and into representative districts in the manner specified above. This commission shall file with the secretary of state a full statement of the numbers of the senatorial and representative districts and their boundaries. No such statement shall be valid unless approved by seven members of such commission.

After such statement is filed, senators and representatives shall be elected according to the statement and the districts therein determined, until a redistricting and reapportionment are thereafter made by the General Assembly as provided in this amendment. If, however, the statement is not filed within four months after the commission is appointed, it shall stand discharged. Thereupon, all senators, scheduled for election at the next election for state senators, and all state representatives shall be nominated and elected at the next election from the state at large. Following such an election at large, the General Assembly at its next regular session shall perform the duties specified in this amendment. But if such a General Assembly fails to perform these duties, then another commission, as specified in this Section 8, shall be appointed in like manner, with like duties, and power, and with like effect; and so forth until a valid senatorial and representative redistricting and reapportionment are secured in this 1950 decade and each decade thereafter. But there can be only one valid senatorial and representative redistricting and reapportionment during a particular decade.

Schedule

While this amendment of Sections 6, 7 and 8 of Article IV, if adopted, shall be effective upon its adoption, nevertheless the General Assembly meeting in 1955 or 1956 shall consist of fifty-one senators and one hundred and fifty-three representatives as provided in Sections 6, 7 and 8 of Article IV of the 1870 constitution of Illinois before the adoption of this amendment.

If the 1955 General Assembly in its regular session redistricts and reapportions, as required, or if upon its failure the commission does so, then those senators who are still residents in odd numbered districts and who were elected in 1954, will retain their offices until the expiration of their terms. But in those odd numbered districts, as created in 1955, where no senator elected in 1954 has been a resident for one year next preceding the election in 1956, a vacancy exists in the office of senator in such odd numbered districts where two or more senators elected in 1954 are residents of the district. In either case, a senator in such an odd numbered district shall be elected in 1956 for a term expiring in 1958. The main purpose of this schedule is to provide for a senate with a full quota of members in 1957-1958.

Any senator elected in 1954, who is eliminated from his office by the redistricting, and who is not re-elected in 1956 for the two year term, shall be paid the salary for 1957-1958, that he would have received if he had been able to serve the full term of his office and shall receive such other benefits as would have accrued if he had served such term.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IV will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 6, 7 AND 8 OF ARTICLE IV
(Legislative Apportionment Amendment)

Explanation of Amendment
This amendment would direct the General Assembly to redistrict the State for the purpose of electing one Senator from each of 58 senatorial districts and three Representatives from each of 59 representative districts.

As concerns the Senate, area would be the "prime consideration" in the formation of the 58 districts. Downstate would be entitled to 34 districts and Cook county to 24 districts, 18 of them in Chicago and six in the county outside Chicago.

As concerns the House of Representatives, the 59 districts would be based upon equal population as nearly as practical, except that in the redistricting prior to the 1960 census, downstate would be entitled to 29 districts and Cook county to 30 districts, 23 of them in Chicago and seven in the county outside Chicago. The three Representatives from each district would be elected by cumulative voting, as at present.

Should the General Assembly fail to redistrict as directed, this duty would fall on a commission appointed by the Governor. The State central committees of the two major parties would each submit a list of 10 nominees to the Governor, who would appoint five from each list, making a 10 member commission. Should the commission fail to redistrict, Senators coming up at the next election and all Representatives would be elected from the State at large. If the resulting General Assembly still fail to redistrict, a new commission would be appointed, as before, and should this second commission fail to redistrict, legislators would again be elected at large—and so forth until a valid redistricting is secured.

Should the General Assembly fail to redistrict as directed, this duty would fall on a commission appointed by the Governor. The State central committees of the two major parties would each submit a list of 10 nominees to the Governor, who would appoint five from each list, making a 10 member commission. Should the commission fail to redistrict, Senators coming up at the next election and all Representatives would be elected from the State at large. If the resulting General Assembly still fail to redistrict, a new commission would be appointed, as before, and should this second commission fail to redistrict, legislators would again be elected at large—and so forth until a valid redistricting is secured.

THE STORY: One of Hong Kong Smith's Texas cowboys shot a gambler in Sage City, Kan., a wide-open trail town. The cowboy, Manny Harpending, had to be arrested, but the marshal resigned rather than to undertake the task. But Wes Tancered, who works as a printer under the name of John Bailey, tamed Harpending when the Texan tried to kiss Laura Vesser, who clerks in Jacob Fugger's store. She is the only person in Sage City, who knows that "John Bailey" is Wes Tancered, slayer of a famous outlaw, Sam Older.

Bill Bleek climbed the steps to Fugger's office on the balcony of the store. He laid the paper on his employer's desk then stepped back.

Fugger read the editorial in cold

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2 AND 3 OF ARTICLE V
(State Treasurer Amendment)

Explanation of Amendment
This amendment changes the length of the term of office of the State Treasurer from two years to four years. The Treasurer will remain ineligible to succeed himself in office.

The proposed amendment to Article V will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2 AND 3 OF ARTICLE V
(Legislative Apportionment Amendment)

Explanation of Amendment
This amendment would direct the General Assembly to redistrict the State for the purpose of electing one Senator from each of 58 senatorial districts and three Representatives from each of 59 representative districts.

As concerns the Senate, area would be the "prime consideration" in the formation of the 58 districts. Downstate would be entitled to 34 districts and Cook county to 24 districts, 18 of them in Chicago and six in the county outside Chicago.

As concerns the House of Representatives, the 59 districts would be based upon equal population as nearly as practical, except that in the redistricting prior to the 1960 census, downstate would be entitled to 29 districts and Cook county to 30 districts, 23 of them in Chicago and seven in the county outside Chicago. The three Representatives from each district would be elected by cumulative voting, as at present.

Should the General Assembly fail to redistrict as directed, this duty would fall on a commission appointed by the Governor. The State central committees of the two major parties would each submit a list of 10 nominees to the Governor, who would appoint five from each list, making a 10 member commission. Should the commission fail to redistrict, Senators coming up at the next election and all Representatives would be elected from the State at large. Stockholders Approve Merger Of Auto Firms

DETROIT (UP)—Packard and Studebaker stockholders merged the automobile industry's last two independent manufacturers today in the hope the combination would weld the two struggling companies into one healthy firm.

Packard stockholders approved the merger in a meeting here, while Studebaker stockholders gave their approval at Wilmington, Del. The action completed a move to ward combines in the automobile field which has gradually squeezed the total number of automobile builders from 1,600 firms over the years into six. It left the industry without an independent firm for the first time in history.

"Big Three" and "Little Three"

The new merger left the industry with a "Big Three" of Ford, General Motors and Chrysler Corp. and a "Little Three" of Studebaker-Packard, American Motors and Kaiser-Willys. American Motors is the combine of Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson.

The "Little Three" all are the result of mergers within the past 18 months, brought on by the tightening competition in the industry after the booming post-war days when the industry couldn't turn out enough cars to meet demand.

The merger of Packard and Studebaker could be the most important of the three. The new firm will be just like the "Big Three" in one respect. It will have a "full line" — a range of models covering all price classes and trucks.

Karnak Farmer Wins Illinois Save Soil Contest

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Rain put a damper on activities at the Illinois State Fair today, designated as "Springfield Day."

Estimated attendance for the first four days of the exhibition was 400,000, but poor weather was expected to hold it down today.

It rained through a good part of the night and showers were falling steadily this morning. The city nevertheless planned a parade from the business district to the Fairgrounds.

"Ladies Day" was celebrated Monday, drawing a crowd estimated by Fair Manager Strother G. Jones at 60,000.

Karnak Man Wins $1,000 Delbert L. Douglas, Karnak, was named winner of the 1954 "Save Your Soil for Illinois" contest, winning a $1,000 bond. The contest is sponsored by the State Division of Soil Conservation.

Douglas has a 205-acre farm in Pulaski County, raising crops on 20 acres with the remainder in grass and woods.

Beverly K. Moody, Cambridge, had the grand champion steer, a 1,170-pound Aberdeen Angus named "Pal." Dean Shoger, Aurora, showed the reserve champion.

Mrs. Ruth I. Leinweber, San Jose, won the governor's cookie jar contest with an entry that symbolized the state flower Mrs. Julia Pernicka, Staunton, took honey cookery sweepstakes honors.

Three Towns Stratched From State List of Water Shortage Areas

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Lovington, Dieterich and Crossville have been scratched off the state's list of communities suffering "critical or near-critical" water shortages.

The State Division of Sanitary Engineering Monday reported those three towns have eased shortages. Added to the list of towns in bad shape from a water standpoint was Jerseyville.

Others on the roster were Ashley, Assumption, Beecher City, Eldandville, Brownstown, Carterville, Coopersville, Eldorado, Ellettsville, Greenfield, Harrisburg, Highland, Kincaid, Mulberry Grove, Nashville, Paris, Teutopolis and Williamsville.

Franchot Tone Receives $17,000 For Neal Beating

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A $17,000 insurance payoff placated actor Franchot Tone for a beating he took from actor Tom Neal three years ago over the affections of shapely actress Barbara Payton.

Lloyds of London agreed to pay Tone that amount in settlement of his $63,666.66 suit against the insurance group for refusing to reimburse him under a $100,000 accident policy issued to him in 1948.

The insurance company had contended Tone was in "a state of intoxication" and provoked the fight with Neal on the lawn of Miss Payton's home the night of Sept. 14, 1951.

At the time of the brawl, in which Tone's nose was broken, Miss Payton was engaged to Neal. Afterward, however, she broke the engagement and married Tone. They were divorced May 19, 1952.

Become Part of Community, Webb Tells Rotarians

Lester I. Webb, local dentist, addressed his fellow Rotarians last night at their weekly dinner meeting. Webb is chairman of the club's Buyers and Sellers relationship committee.

Using placards to impress upon his listeners the main points of emphasis, the speaker presented on excellent talk on the relationship of each member's business to the others and to the community as a whole.

His message was well outlined and delivered. Pointing first to the individual's need for a goal when locating in a community, the speaker then enlarged upon the necessity of that person becoming a part of the community. He listed interest in civic projects, a knowledge of the school system, membership in the church of his choice in a civic club, and in societies relative to the advancement of his own chosen profession or work as a few things instrumental in making the individual of greater value to his community. This, in turn, would benefit the individual and improve his opportunities for success in the community.

President John Foster announced that next Monday evening would be observed as Ladies' Night, and wives of Rotarians would be special guests. A committee was also appointed to begin work on the annual Rotary Rummage sale.

Eisenhowers Register for N. Y. Election

NEW YORK (UP)—Business connection of voter? "President of the U. S. A."

Location of business? "White House, Washington, D. C."

President Eisenhower came here today to put his "X" under the eagle emblem of the Republican Party and register to vote in the November congressional and state elections.

Mrs. Eisenhower and two members of the presidential staff came with him on a quick flying round-trip from Washington to register as New York voters and get absentee ballots for the Nov. 5 elections.

After landing at La Guardia Airport, Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower and the presidential secretaries for press and appointments, James C. Hagerly and Thomas E. Stephens, drove to the New York County Board of Elections general office in downtown Manhattan.

Under New York law, even though the Eisenhowers have left the state they may retain a voting address here while he is on duty in Washington. Their legal voting residence is 60 Morningside Drive, home of the President of Columbia University.

The Eisenhowers are registering "centrally," as permitted by state law, before the regular registration period opens so they will not have to return from vacation in Denver to register. Their voting residence is in the 45th Election

Looking AT Sports

By BILL MELTON
Have found it necessary to lean on The Sporting News rather heavily this summer, but this time have gone "all out" and used clippings from The Sporting News exclusively. With baseball interest at its peak, we feel these items will be of interest to many readers.

The manager of a baseball team gets one guess—and it had better be good! The baseball fan reserves the right to second guess—but The Sporting News Baseball Quiz goes a bit farther. You get four guesses. Mark your choices 1-2-3-4. If you're right on a first choice, score yourself ten points. Make it five for a correct second, three for a third and one for a fourth pick.

1. Smokey Alston and Fred Haney are the only two present-day major league managers who did not appear in a World Series game. Three of them appeared in one series. Can you name the year?
() 1929 () 1932 () 1934 () 1940 () 1945 () 1948

2. The Detroit Tigers are making bid for fourth place. If they continue at their present pace they could establish a new record for lowest percentage of games won by a fourth-place team. What club holds the record?

() Browns () Phillies () Senators () White Sox

3. A check by The Sporting News shows that of the first 20 home runs hit by Willie Mays this year, 17 of them came in games won by the Giants. Larry Doby and Mickey Mantle hit 16 of their first 20 homers in winning efforts. What player listed below hit the LEAST number of his first 20 in winning games?

() Matthews () Sauer () Hodges () Musial () Williams () Kluszcwski

4. Five of the players shown below were two-time minor league batting champions—one led four leagues in batting. Who is he?

() Burgess () Majeski () Taylor () Kluszcwski () Nieman () Woodling

Native Dancer Surpasses Record Of Man O'War

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Native Dancer, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's gray galloper, has pushed his victory record ahead of the mark compiled in 1919-20 by the immortal Man O'War.

Vanderbilt's pride resumed racing Monday after a three-month layoff and carried the heaviest weight of his career—137 pounds—to a nine-length triumph in the Belless Oneonta Handicap. The easy triumph on a sloppy Saratoga track boosted his record to 21 victories in 22 starts.

Man O'War was retired in 1920 with 20 triumphs in 21 races. Colin, with 15 victories in as many starts, is the only top-notch American race horse ever to compile a perfect record. But Man O'War's record generally is the yardstick against which champions are measured.

Native Dancer suffered his only defeat in the 1953 Kentucky Derby. Man O'War absorbed his only defeat in the 1919 Sanford Stakes.

Robin Roberts Gains His 18th Victory as Phillies Defeat Dodgers, 9 to 6

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Robin Roberts owns more victories than any other pitcher in the majors today and he also owns a suspicion that the three National League contenders may not settle the pennant question until the final week of the season.

Roberts, in hurling the Phillies to a 9-6 triumph over the Dodgers in the only game scheduled Monday night, not only gained his 18th victory of the season but also kept Brooklyn from climbing into a virtual first-place tie with the Giants.

Had the Dodgers won, they would have been only two percentage points behind the Giants. As it is, they are one game behind New York and only 2 1/2 games ahead of red-hot third-place Milwaukee. "The race is so close that there's no telling which team is actually in the driver's seat now," Roberts said following his triumph over the Dodgers.

"You can't judge the Dodgers on what they did tonight. They didn't get good pitching. For that matter, we didn't get extra special pitching ourselves."

Roberts' Pitching Erratic

Roberts said a mouthful. Even though he pitched his 20th complete game of the season, he was nicknamed for Gil Hodges' 31st home run and Pee Wee Reese's 10th, in addition to which he committed a wild pitch and walked six men. The six bases on balls represented the most Roberts yielded in a single game since the 1951 season.

Walt Alston, the usually conservative Brooklyn manager, gambled against the Phils when he started inexperienced Bob Darnell, who joined the Dodgers only two weeks ago from St. Paul. Darnell lasted only two frames.

There was no gloom in the Brooklyn dressing room even though the Dodgers realized they booted an opportunity. "Naturally, we would have liked to have beaten Roberts," said Duke

Three Illinois Owners Win State Fair Racing Events

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Three Illinois horse owners today held a large chunk of the record-breaking $229,250 purse distributed in four Illinois State Fair harness racing events.

The top money in the fourth colt stake went to a Missouri horse, one of a record entry seeking wins the ball go. Garagiola has a good idea about how to pitch to Musial, but someone sometime ago suggested another method. Throw him four straight balls, then pick him off first.

A total of 89 trotters and pacers competed for the four events—a 2-year-old trot, a 2-year-old pace, a 3-year-old trot and a 3-year-old pace.

The Illinois winners are: In the 3-year-old pace, Peter Van Gundy, Altamont Stables entry, Alhambra, Ill. The colt, with Mel Harmonizing driving, picked up $20,275 out of a purse of $57,500.

In the 3-year-old trot, Bishop's First, owned by Herman Graham of Salem, passed up 15 rivals in straight heats to take $28,027.50 out of a total purse of $57,500.

In the 2-year-old pace, Calvin Bredburg's entry, Eclipse Queen, took $20,543, the winner's share of a $58,225 purse. The Windsor, Ill., horse was driven by Bernet Thompson.

In the 2-year-old trot, Tom Wilburn drove Gracie Colleen across the line for the major share of a $58,025 purse. Owner C. E. Dickey of Poplar Bluff, Mo., collected $21,469.

Schedule ASC Community Committee Elections Next Month

Raymond Alvey, chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization Committee, announced today that ASC community committee elections will be held in September. Committee members elected will take office Oct. 1, and will serve until elections are held next year.

"Balloting will be conducted by mail," Chairman Alvey stated. Ballots listing at least ten candidates will be mailed to all eligible voters by the county ASC office. Each voter will vote for the five men of his choice for the three regular members of the community committee and two alternate committee members. The candidates are to be nominated by the Community Election Board, of three farmers chosen by the County Election Board according to Mr. Alvey. Members of the County Election Board in Saline county are as follows: L. B. Kimmel, county agent; Tom Morgan, SCS; E. Ronald Coon, FFA; and W. A. Williams, president of Farm Bureau.

Also listed on the ballot will be eligible candidates nominated by petition. Petitions signed by ten or more eligible voters favoring the nomination of a particular farmer will be accepted by the Community Election Board at any time up to and including August 30, 1954. Community Election Board chairman and their addresses are as follows:

Brushy, Otis Stone, Rt. 2, Galatia; Carrier Mills, Sam Martin, Rt. 2, Harrisburg; Cottage, Willie Robinson, Rt. 4, Harrisburg; Eldorado, L. Earl Wise, Rt. 1, Eldorado; Galatia, Noble Williams, Rt. 2, Galatia; Harrisburg, H. Ward Baker, Rt. and

Independence, Ellis Fox, Rt. 3, Harrisburg; Long Branch, A. J. Tison, Rt. 3, Eldorado; Mountain, C. Ersel Vinyard, Rt. 1, Herod; Raleigh, Philip Whitlock, Rt. 4, Harrisburg; Rector, James Garner Jr., Rt. 2, Eldorado; Stonefort, Gilbert McCabe, Rt. 1, Stonefort; Tate, Egbert Tate, Galatia.

In order to be eligible for election to serve as an ASC community committee member a farmer must be eligible to vote in the ASC committee elections in the community, and be residing in the community. Mr. Alvey stated that eligibility of those farmers nominated by petition will be checked against these regulations before listing their names on the ballots.

Nominations by petition can be made only if the 10 or more persons signing the petition are eligible to vote in the community ASC election. In order to be eligible to vote in the community committee elections a person must have an interest in a farm in the community as owner, tenant or sharecropper, must be participating in the Agricultural Conservation program or carrying out on his farm one of the eligible practices covered by that program or be eligible for price support on one or more agricultural commodities he produces or be eligible for a payment under the Sugar program.

"These voting eligibility regulations are broad enough to include practically all farmers," Mr. Alvey pointed out.

The chairman urged all farmers to watch their mail for the ballot when they receive it to mark

Permit Use of English Language In Catholic Liturgy

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Archbishop Albert G. Meyer said today the use of the English language in several sacraments of the Catholic Church has been granted by Pope Pius XII.

Meyer said the Pope had granted permission for Americans to use English in the sacraments of baptism, marriage and extreme unction as well as in about 25 of the church's usual blessings.

The Rev. A. F. Wilmes, secretary of the National Conference on Catholic Liturgy, said the use of English in Catholic liturgy had been discussed for about 150 years, but this was the first time permission had been granted.

Several European countries, including Germany, previously had been granted permission to use their national language, he said.

About 1,100 Catholic clergy and laymen are attending the 15th National Conference in Liturgy here.

Last Survivor

Ralph Farnham was the last survivor of the battle of Bunker Hill. He fought in the historic battle in 1775 at the age of 19, and died at the age of 104 at Acton, N. H., in 1880.

It at once and return it to the county office.

"This is your opportunity to participate in choosing the men who will administer the Price Support, Crop Allotment and Quota, Agricultural Conservation and Sugar programs during the coming year," Mr. Alvey advised Saline county farmers.
